5. President's Report – Dr. Walt Tribley

- a. District Division Update – Formal agreement signed to allow NWCCD to continue offering nursing program in Gillette during the transition. Another agreement, in final review, will allow for cooperation between districts to assist students during transition.
- b. Advanced Manufacturing and Applied Sciences Update – Bids to be opened 5-23-2023. Faculty consulted on the design. No major value engineering required. Using contract manager at risk for construction and design management.
- c. General Updates – Dr. Tribley distributed handout related to news from agriculture department. He read the excerpt about student, Landry May earning another prestigious PTK scholarship. He announced SC rodeo team results, and that Coach Gilkerson won the honor of Coach of the Year.

6. Departmental Spotlight: Sheridan College in Johnson County (SCJC)

Dr. Tribley introduced the Sheridan College in Johnson County Advisory Board members and recognized them with applause for their contributions. He summarized scholarships provided for SCJC students, number of credits earned, and investment in infrastructure and new furniture for SCJC.

Ms. Kremers thanked all who contribute to the success of SCJC. She reported that according to the American Association of Community Colleges, there are only 1038 community colleges, so it certainly is a privilege to have access to a community college. She noted that students in Johnson County have access to certificates, degrees, and high school equivalency, all of which can be completed in Johnson County. SCJC continues to be responsive to community needs including the introduction of a CDL program, enrolled agent program, software development program, CNA certificate, and many others.

VP Smith referenced the folder of information distributed to the Board with information related to SCJC, described its contents, and asked the Board to review the materials. She highlighted the positive role of dual and concurrent courses available to high school students in Johnson County. In the last year, students completed over 1600 credit hours, at a cost of approximately $200k that students and parents don't have to pay. SCJC places emphasis on supporting adult students who wish to return to school to support their educational goals. SCJC meets students where they're at.

Director Aguirre described the goals of SCJC through continued growth, awareness, and opportunities. He described the Golf for Knowledge event to raise money for SCJC scholarships, sweet treats provided at the Johnson County sheep feed, cultural events at the library, local basketball games, and Selfies with Santa. SCJC saw a huge increase in requests for scholarship dollars with $11k being awarded. SCJC offers enrollment support and 1:1 mentoring to SCJC students. Trustee Henry noted being impressed by the opportunities available to students in Johnson County.
