“I visited Sheridan’s campus and absolutely fell in love with it. One of the biggest things I like is the small student-to-faculty ratio. You come in and your professors are really heavily invested in your success. They are always looking for hands-on learning opportunities and events to help us further our education.”

A person is lying in a green and yellow striped hammock on a grassy lawn. They are wearing a grey t-shirt, a dark baseball cap, a watch, and a colorful beaded bracelet. They are holding a smartphone in their hands and looking at it with a smile. In the background, there are folding chairs and a tent, suggesting an outdoor event or festival.
