

SPECIAL STUDIES

The District uses the designation 1490, 2490, 1990, or 2990 for classes offered to experiment with course content and/or to determine student interest. The special studies or "topics" courses are temporary courses offered for one or two semesters only, with approval of the chief academic officer. These course designations may be changed to permanent course numbers upon submission to and approval by the Curriculum and Standards Committee.
